Happy 150th birthday, Luverne!

Sunday, July 15, wrapped up Luverne's 150th Celebration with Tom Getman's message at First Presbyterian Church.

His message, "Grandparents ride with us in today's fields," was a tribute to Luverne's forefathers, and he reminded the audience that "those progenitors still walk with us in spirit."

Tanya Light reflected on her family's ancestry and their contributions during Saturday's parade. Her great-grandfather F. A. Leicher started Luverne Fire Apparatus Co., and her grandfather, Bob, and father, Jim, followed in his footsteps making fire trucks for cities across the U.S.

Twenty-one of those fire trucks traveled to Luverne Saturday and formed a procession that Light will never forget.

"It was a very touching moment for me to see my family's legacy all in a row," she said.

Jane Wildung Lanphere and Lorna Bryan were honored as parade marshals Saturday, July 15 in the 150th celebration parade on Luverne's Main Street.

The gathering of red Luverne fire trucks was the work of John Wurm of Forest Lake, who contacted Light about an article he is writing for a trade magazine. He was looking for pictures of Luverne fire trucks.

Light, as it turns out, was looking for information about her great-grandfather for an exhibit at the History Center in Luverne.

With the information exchanged and Luverne's 150th celebration approaching, Wurm sent letters to surrounding fire departments, which still had a vintage Luverne Fire Apparatus truck.

The Leichers manufactured fire trucks in Luverne from 1928 to 1973.

The parade featured trucks through the decades.

"It was really cool to see all the trucks," Light said.

LUVERNE'S 150TH WAS A HIT

Luverne's 55th Annual Hot Dog Nite kicked off a weekend of celebration for the city's 150th Birthday Party. More than two years "in the making", the 150th Committee and the City of Luverne pulled out all the stops to craft a wide variety of memorable opportunities for everyone.

Our world-famous Hot Dog Nite included our classic events like 15,000 hot dogs being given away by Luverne merchants, a wiener dog beauty pageant, wiener dog races, performances on Main Street, opening of the tap room at Take 16 Brewing Company and the 7th Annual Wienerman Triathlon. Dave Duffy, organizer of the triathlon, hosted Casey Muessigmann of Season 3 of The Voice for a free Main Street concert on the grounds of the newly completed History Center (former Herman Motor building) to top the night!

Friday morning the town was buzzing with residents and visitors taking the opportunity to experience all the great things happening in Luverne. At 9 am, approximately 2 dozen people participated in a "Walk on the Prairie" with US Fish & Wildlife naturalist Howard Paul at Touch the Sky Prairie. Many of us remember in the 1970's when Nelson Brothers closed and the second floor of that famous building was removed, essentially closing Luverne's only "mall". On July 14th at 9:45 am – the Luverne Area Chamber hosted the official ribbon cutting event for our new "Mall on Main" which features four wonderful local boutique businesses; ReBorn Home Furnishings (Kathy Vander Lugt and Becky Feikema), Four Seasons Mercantile (Amy Kruger), Tyana's Boutique (Amy Van Essen) and Computer Tutors (Scott Wessels). The building has Luverne residents Marilyn and Curt Bloemendaal, working with contractor Curt and Kellee Valnes, uncovered and re-purposed some of the Nelson treasures along with other Main Street collectibles to add to the charm of the Mall on Main.

Only a block east, the Rock County Historical Society completed the final phase of the exterior renovation for Luverne's 150th celebration. With stuccoing, painting, signage and landscaping were completed just a few days before – the new History Center certainly put its "best foot forward" as it opened the doors for the weekend. The History Center features a treasure-trove of archival materials for family and local research.

The showroom area features a display of the Luverne Automobile Company and Luverne Fire Apparatus complete with vehicles and video/audio display highlighting the creativity of Luverne's first true manufacturing family – The Leichers.

Display cases in the lobby feature a wonderful collection of dolls including corn-husk, coal dolls to the ever-popular American Girl variety.

Walk a few more steps to access the bay area to enjoy displays on county life including agriculture, Main Street businesses, education, home life and faith. Open only a few weeks ago, the RCHS Christmas Haus is an adorable gift store that features signature nutcrackers, branded Luverne gift items, Christmas decor and many other gift items. All proceeds from the Christmas Haus support the Rock County Historical Society.

Later in the morning (and later in the afternoon), people had the opportunity to enjoy special educational programming coordinated by the Rock County Historical Society and supported by Green Earth Players along with area businesses. Live re-enactors shared stories of the lives of significant Luverne historic figures:

Philo, Malvina and Eva LuVerne Hawes were portrayed by Eric, Cheryl and Caitlyn Hartman on the bank of the Rock River. Philo Hawes was the founder of Luverne when he established a mail station on the bank of the Rock River in 1867. He named this town after his oldest daughter, Eva LuVerne.

More than 1,500 sugar cookies were handed out to end Luverne's 150th Parade including one to Beaver Creek's Grace Prohl, 4.

They were portrayed by Knute and Gunnar Oldre. RCHS President Betty Mann shared the life story of Minnesota's first woman undertaker, Inez Isabel Smith. I. I. Smith was also the original owner of Smith Furniture, whose granddaughter, Neva Brinkman and husband

Larry operated for many years.

Jacob Gerber was a self-made man who operated one of Luverne's most successful retail businesses in the early day. Portrayed by Dave Smith, Gerber built a hardware store that many of us fondly remember as Ben's Bakery. Gerber also built a grand home on Main Street called the Gerber House, now on the National Register. Many of us remember the home as the Holm Funeral Home.

The stories of the builders of the Palace Theatre are too numerous to mention. Herman Jochims had the vision to build a grand and great theatre and Maude Jochims was right by his side making sure it was "grand" in every sense of the word. Bruce Kurtz and Katie Walgrave portrayed this famous couple and were proud to "show off" their New Palace.

Quentin Aanenson, home on leave from the US Army Air Corps during WWII, stood alongside his Packard outside the Palace and was happy to share his life story to passersby. Quentin was portrayed by his great-grandnephew, Hunter Ahrendt.

The rich written legacy and gift of story-telling of Al McIntosh, editor and publisher of the Rock County Star Herald for so many years, was shared by re-enactor Dale Nelson from a desk in the current offices of the Star-Herald.

E. A. Canfield, attorney and investor, left his mark on Luverne. Not only was he one of the original owners of the Stephens-Canfield Block (Sterling’s Café & Grille) but he wrote to Andrew Carnegie to ask for $10,000 to build Luverne’s first library. George McDonald shared the story of E. A.’s life from behind the desk at the Carnegie.

One of Luverne’s most famous couples from our early days was R. B. and May Hinkly. Everett and Jan Brandenburg offered insight into the lives R. B. and May from their exquisite home, the Hinkly House, now owned and operated by the Rock County Historical Society.

Said to be Rock County’s first millionaire, A. D. LaDue built a magnificent house at 515 North Estey Street. One of the founders of the First National Bank and avid community investor, A.D.’s life from rags to riches was shared by re-enactor Mike Jarchow. Mike is the current owner of the home and has lived there for 34 years. He and his wife Wanda have artfully restored the home to its original grandeur.

The Luverne Trolley offered “What’s Happening in Luverne” trolley tours from the base at the Luverne Area Chamber during Friday morning and afternoon. These tours provided the opportunity to hear and see all the exciting things that have happened and are happening in Luverne including commercial, residential, recreational and industrial development.

Friday night offered entertainment opportunities for people of all ages. Take 16 Brewing Company had a Block Party like no other when they offered a free concert by “The Suburbs”. The concert along with the celebration of the tap room opening brought hundreds of people together. Thanks to Wendy Grill and the Class of 1967, the Luverne Armory was filled with fun on Friday night as the band “Surfin’ Safari” took the stage. It was a blast from the past when the doors open and people poured in for a night of fun.

We all love a parade and the 150th was one to remember. With friends, families, businesses, organizations and institutions getting together – the 128 unit parade was fun for all! Kicking off the parade were the color guards from our Minnesota National Guard

Unit – Luverne & Pipestone and the American Legion & VFW Post Honor Guard. Luverne Area Chamber staff members Lorna Siebenahler Bryan and Jane Wildung Lanphere were honored to be selected by the 150th Committee as parade marshals.

A special shout-out has to go to Tom Wurm (a researcher and author writing a book on the remaining Luverne manufactured fire trucks) in collaboration with Tanya Leicher Light who arranged for 20 antique Luverne Fire Apparatus fire trucks to drive through the parade immediately following our Luverne Fire Department.

The Luverne High School and Middle School Bands joined together to parade down the route playing the rousing school song! Mayor Patrick Baustian was honored to drive members of the Luverne Senior Citizens on the route. Representing Senior Center membership were Dallas Bowron, Ruth Ashby and Helmer Haakenson whose combined ages totaled 300 years! (We have a way to go!) The parade ended with the host committee distributing 1,500 Luverne “Love the Life” 150th cookies to the crowd!

One of the highlights of the weekend was a special organ recital by the 19 year old Ryan Hardy of Fargo, ND. Ryan had just received second place title in the National Theatre Organ competition in Florida. Our Historic Palace Theatre is home to a wonderful theatre organ that was installed almost 100 years ago. Said to be the only organ of this type still in its original “home”; Hardy delighted the full house with a multi-media concert. Not only was the crowd astounded by the sound the organ could make, Hardy also used live camera footage, photos and videos to show and teach people about the organ. The program titled, “Uncovering the Hidden Gem of the Palace” certainly didn't disappoint any of the attendees.

The 150th Party at the Park lived up to its billing. Luverne natives and residents provided an outstanding night of live musical entertainment. Three stages at the Park offered entertainment options for everyone. Not Exactly, Neo Johnson, Tequila Sunrise and John David & the Jerks were the musical groups that entertained the throngs of crowds. Luverne grads Jim Groth and Colby Anderson shared the solo stage to the delight of the attendees. The Bluestem, Sterling's Café & Grille and Pizza Ranch offered up their delicious fares.

The Chamber served delicious Stensland Dairy ice cream (made in Larchwood, IA) from the Dairy Association's Ice Cream Wagon. Take 16 Brewing Company provided beverage options of all types including the special 150th Anniversary beer profile – the delicious Luverne Lager. (This copper lager yields malty character while remaining quaffable and balanced, brewed by Take 16's Luke Rensink.)

Ending a great day was a spectacular fireworks show put together by Luverne's officially licensed “shooters” – Jonathon Kurtz and Jeremy Lehman. These two Luverne firefighters recently completed the process of becoming licensed by the State of Minnesota to operate a fireworks show. The spectacular display was shot from the west bank of the Rock River and south of Redbird Field to the delight of party goers – capping off a full day of fun for Luverne's 150th.

Sunday morning, LHS 1959 grad and Rock County Hall of Fame member Tom Getman shared his message from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church speaking about the importance of our ancestors and how they made us the people we are today.

a walk at Touch the Sky Prairie that featured how the native prairie plants provided medicine for both Native Americans and pioneers.

The Rock County Ministerial Association hosted the 150th Community Worship Service on Sunday afternoon at the American Reformed Church. This special service brought people of all denominations together to thank God for His grace and generosity that created the community that we live in, a community that from its beginning is a place where we "Love the Life."

But the 150th Party isn't over. The Committee continues to offer and put together special opportunities for everyone to celebrate! August 21st is the "Not Quite Bonnie Tyler – Total Eclipse of the Sun" party at Touch the Sky Prairie.

August 26th and 27th is a special opportunity to celebrate the past with Luverne's first "Stars and Stripes USO Show" at the Palace Theatre featuring Bob Hope, Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra, Andrews Sisters and the Fulda Big Band. September 1st – Rodger Ossenfort, Jerold Mann, Ken Vos and Peter Bakken are hosting the 150th Tractor Ride (a 51 mile tractor ride throughout Rock County).

Sunday night, September 3rd, the 150th Committee is collaborating with Glenn Burmeister when the Verne Drive In hosts a "blast from the past" with the cult classic movie – "Rocky Horror Picture Show."

There is plenty to do in Luverne and plenty of reasons to "Love the Life" in your hometown! Hundreds and thousands of people deserve our thanks and gratitude for putting together a wonderful celebration honoring our past.

The Luverne 150th Committee knows that the co-operation and sense of community that has brought us to where we are today will continue to create the opportunity for an even brighter future. Luverne – always a great place to live, work, play and visit!

The total solar eclipse of August 21, 2017 is the first total eclipse visible from America's lower 48 states in over 38 years. The last one happened in 1979 and passed through the Pacific Northwest and central Canada in late winter. This year, the total eclipse passes within a narrow corridor that traverses the United States from the Pacific Northwest to the Southeast crossing a dozen states: Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina (a tiny corner of Montana and Iowa are also inside the path). A partial eclipse is seen within the much broader path of the Moon's penumbral shadow, which includes all of North America, the northern third of South America, and westernmost Europe and Africa.
